MRS. ESTHER NICHOLS ANNOUNCES RETIREMENT

Mrs. Esther Nichols, School Nurse of Wilmington was honored at a tea, given by the Teachers Association, on Wednesday, May 27, at the High School Cafeteria, upon the announcement of her resignation.

Joining in the celebration were her husband, Mr. Guy Nichols, her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Nichols and many of her close friends.

Among other guests were: Selectwoman Wavie Drew, representing the Board of Selectmen Dr. and Mrs. Ernest MacDougall, Dr. Filipek, Mr. Pat Ring, of the Welfare Department and Dr. and Mrs. Galus Harmon. Many other guests were invited but expressed their sincere regrets that they would be unable to attend.

The tea, which followed the regular business meeting of the Teachers Association was complete with lace table cloth flowers, and a fine array of food which was plentiful.

The menu consisted of lobster and chicken filled finger rolls, chips, pickles, olives, homemade brownies, cookies, cake, coffee and tea.

Mrs. Nichols has given forty years of service in Wilmington and was the first school nurse after being the town nurse, in our town. Many of her acts outside of her profession, may never be brought to light, but her kindnesses will be remembered by a great number of people.

A lovely bouquet of flowers with streamers attached and money enclosed, given by the Teachers Club, was presented to Mrs. Nichols by Paul Bodenstein, who spoke a few words about the devotion she gave to her work.

Superintendent of Schools, John Collins gave a brief talk on the appreciation of her position, and sincere devotion at all times.

Other members of the school personnel gifted her with a purse.

Mrs. Arlene Halpin, assistant to Mrs. Nichols was chairman of the committee.

In charge of refreshments were Mae Sculley, assisted by Mrs. George Webber.

Mrs. Sybil Wiberg, Mrs. Abbey McQuaid, and Mrs. Evelyn Andersen were also responsible for the success of the event.

Three men who admitted to throwing more than $3500.00 worth of rings and other jewelry into the Shawsheen River, were captured at gunpoint by Officers George Fuller and Charles Dolan of the Wilmington Police last Monday night.

Chief Nichols and Sgt. Deymond of the Andover police notified the Wilmington Police that they had recovered a safe containing bonds and securities which had been stolen from the home of George Stevens, Lowell Road Junction Andover, Tuesday night May 26. The safe was found intact off Main Street, Tewksbury. Chief Nichols came to Wilmington on a tip that a Harry W. Parker, 22 of Salem Street was seen at a local nightclub with a pistol in his waistband.

Sgt. George Sheperd of the local police went with the Andover Police in search of the suspect, while Officers Fuller and Dolan staked out near the St. Dorothy's Church to watch a car parked in the yard of the Wilmington Diner, that answered the description of the suspect's car.

Some time later, three men entered the car and drove south on Main Street, towards Wilmington Square. Officers Fuller and Dolan swung into pursuit and stopped the car a short distance away. Taken from the car at gunpoint were Harry W. Parker, 22, Salem Street, Wilmington, James F. Sheehy, 18, of Lawrence and Frank Condo Jr. 19, of Andover.

A search of the suspects at the scene of arrest revealed a loaded revolver and a bank money bag containing $149.00 in change.

Chief Nichols, Sgts. Deymond and Sheperd arrived and handcuffed the suspects who were taken to the local police station. A search of the car at the station revealed four more pistols.

After 4 hours questioning, the suspects admitted to breaking into the High Spot Cafe, a restaurant in North Andover, a few hours previous. The money recovered in the car was taken from there. The suspects also admitted to breaking into the high school in Methuen last May 19, where they stole $150.00.

The five pistols were stolen from the Stevens home, along with the safe, earrings, necklace, rings and watches valued at more than $3700.00.

Skin divers were scheduled to dive in the Shawsheen River in an attempt to recover the jewelry.

The suspect, Harry W. Parker, was nabbed two years ago, when he broke into the same home and had stolen the same pistol, which was recovered and returned to Mr. Stevens.

During the questioning of the suspects, it was revealed that Parker wanted to shoot it out with the police but changed his mind.

Mr. Stevens is the former owner of the Stevens Supermarket and now is operating a dairy bar off Main Street, just below the nearly completed Wilmington Plaza Shopping Center.

The owners of the High Spot Restaurant in No. Andover were unaware that the building had been broken into until notified of the recovery of the money.

NATIONAL SCIENCE SOCIETIES HONOR WILMINGTON STUDENTS

Miss Elene Farello, Head of the Department of Science at Wilmington High School, announces that four students of science at Wilmington High have received Honorable Mention Certificates from the American Society for Metals and the Future Scientists of America Foundation.

These awards were granted on the basis of written reports of research work done by these students in areas of individual interest. The judging team included scientists and teachers of this area, the New England States, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. The entire program was conducted by the Future Scientists of America Foundation.

The research reports and the students follow: William Ballou - Grade 8 "The Construction of an X-Ray Machine" Carolyn Bright - Grade 9 "A Study of Vitamin K" Alan Ford - Grade 10 "Earth Life for Mars", and John Tobey - Grade 11 "The Atomic Submarine."

Appropriate exercises are being planned at the high school for formal presentation of these awards.

THROWN FROM HORSE

Vincent Cicollini of West St Everett was visiting friends on Grove St., on Sunday when he was thrown from a horse.

The victim was taken to Choate Memorial Hospital in the Ambulance.

Officer Ellsworth went to the scene.

THREE JUVENILES APPEAR IN COURT

Three youths, ages 12, 14 and 15 appeared in Woburn Court on Thursday morning on charges of stealing a car on Sunday, May 17.

The vehicle, owned by Eleanor Ronco of 11 King St., was taken from in front of St. Thomas' Church at 12:50 p.m.

It was later recovered and the three were apprehended by Officer Cuoco.

One of the youngsters was committed to the Youth Service Board. One was adjudicated a juvenile delinquent and was committed to the Youth Service Board, suspended for one year. The third case was continued for one year without a finding in the nature of probation.

Officer Cuoco prosecuted all three cases before Judge Henchey.

TALK OF THE TOWN

By HANK FILIPPONE

Last weeks Memorial Day parade proved one thing. A permanent committee should be appointed by the vets organizations to plan the affair. With all due respect to the efforts put into the arranging of the memorial service in the past, each year sees a new panel of officers directing the program, some of whom have no idea as to what went into it the previous year.

Nick DeFelice stepped into the picture at the last moment and without his help the roll call service would have really been fouled up.

The most stirring service was given by Rev. Father Mackin, of St. Thomas' Parish. In an appropriate speech, Father Mackin made the throats of those listening choke up. In this writers opinion, Father Mackin makes listening a pleasure.

The Boy Scout service was the finest that has been witnessed to date. That youngster who delivered the Gettysburg Address was wonderful and the High School Band playing the Star Spangled Banner made some of those in the audience who should have been taking part in the services feel guilty.

The lines of spectators watching the parade grow thinner and thinner each year. The same old faces fall out for the parade each year. These participants are the men who 'put it on the line' a few years ago, and these same men are trying to remind you that the price for freedom isn't cheap. They are not 'Halo Wearers' and ask only that you be reminded that Memorial Day is a day set aside for those who paid with their lives that you may have the privilege of living in a world of peace and freedom.

George Spanos marched the entire distance of the Memorial parade, visited with all the Veterans Clubs and still felt like a million dollars. God Bless you, George.

Monday, June 22, the people of Wilmington will be asked to attend a special Town Meeting, at the High School Auditorium.

At this writing, the articles on the warrants are not available, June 8 being the deadline for same. It is this writers opinion that the people will be asked to appropriate money for Schools, amount unknown. It is also this writers opinion that these articles could have been on the warrants of the annual town meeting, last March. However, had it happened, our $2.00 tax cut would have been nullified.

In a conversation with Mel Southmayd, proprietor of Mel's Texaco Station, it was learned that the Federal tax on a gallon is 3¢ and the State tax is 5¢, a total of 8¢ tax on a gallon. With the State asking for another increase in gas taxes, it behooves all citizens to write their representatives and Senators in protest.

Our neighboring Town of North Reading likes our bill of Legislature controlling gravel operations so much that they are about to file the same bill, just inserting the Town of North Reading wherever the Town of Wilmington appears.

Bill Rich of Rich's Independent station will be having an anniversary weekend at his station, starting June 18, 19 and 20. At this time, Bill will give all his customers a souvenir gift, and the children will get large balloons and candy.

Construction in Wilmington is going ahead at a steady pace. In the process of being built are: Glen Road School, St. Dorothy's Church, DeMoulas Shopping Center, First National Supermarket, Plastics Products Co., Professional Building, addition to the Unit Packet, Superhighway #93 and new route 125. In prospect are: Urban Renewal off the Center St. Thomas' Church and a couple of elementary schools.

If you missed Davenport Davis at the Middlesex County National Bank these past three weeks, its only because he has been over to North Reading getting things squared away at their newly opened branch. Mr. Davis is back at his old desk this week.

THE AMERICAN WAY

It Ain't Exactly Hay That Pay-Day Take-Away

In the foreground is the Ruggiero property on Andover Street shown as it appears at present, all beautifully graded and landscaped by Campanella & Cardi, who removed the gravel over the protestations of our town officials. In the background is a similar operation, going on for some time, with approval of town officials. Note the debris and rubble piled high.

Learning the ways of the controls of the newly arrived aerial ladder truck, some of our fire laddies are shown studying the control panel. An interested spectator is Mrs. Alfred Calabrese, T.M.'s wife.

FITCHBURG MAN ESCAPES INJURY

At 1:30 p.m. on Sunday, police received a call stating that an accident had occurred on Salem St., near the entrance to Cronin's Sand Pit.

Germaine Goudreault of 120 Myrtle Ave., Fitchburg was operating the vehicle which went out of control and knocked down several guide posts. The front of the vehicle was damaged, but luckily Mr. Goudreault escaped injury. His car was towed to Cain's Garage.

Officers Markey, Ritchie and Cuoco investigated the accident.

TWO YOUTHS PLACED ON PROBATION

Chief Lynch received a complaint recently regarding the use of obscene and abusive language over the telephone.

When the callers continued to plague their victim, a quick check was made by police and with the cooperation of the Telephone Company, a wire tap was set up. Routine proceedings brought the case to a close at Woburn Court on Thursday morning.

Two youngsters, ages 12 and 13 appeared before Judge Henchey and were placed on probation for six months.

Chief Lynch prosecuted the case.

LINES OF LOVELINESS

OF

BY

JENI JANERICO

BE KIND TO YOUR FEET!

MODERN LIVING demands a good deal of walking—whether you're a homemaker or a career woman, whether you're just touching the twenties, or greeting your fourth grandchild! And I know I don't have to tell you: When your feet feel overtired, your face reflects the strain. However, there are many small ways in which you can comfort your feet. First and foremost, of course—do take care to choose the right shoe for the occasion. This means you don't go on an all-day shopping trip in your dancing shoes, even if you do think your ankles look better in high heels. (By the end of the day those ankles will be puffy—and that's never a pretty look!)

DON'T TRY to be a "bath-room surgeon". If you have corns and callouses, consult a foot doctor. And clip your nails the way he suggests: Straight across, not too short. Feet should be washed twice a day and dried thoroughly each time. When you use foot powder, be sure it doesn't cake between the toes. (This can cause infection.)

SHAWSHEEN
BEAUTY
SALON

PUFFY ankles go back to normal when you rest them for awhile at a high angle, at least six to eight inches higher than your head. Try soaking them first in lukewarm water. Then assume that relaxing position for a full fifteen minutes. (To take away the strain—lines your tired feet put into your face, use the same few moments to put cotton pads, soaked in cool water, over your eyes.)

Another good trick for swollen ankles is this: First, a few moments in the hottest water you can stand. Then a quick rinse with ice-water. Repeat the process at least three times. You'll smile with relief, and step away feeling younger!

Ever tried the pencil-trick?—it can keep feet feeling light and limber. Just try to pick up a pencil with your bare toes. A small rubber ball is another good foot exerciser. And one more ankle-slimmer: Lie down, feet out straight ahead, six inches from bed or floor. Now turn them in complete circles, from the ankles.

Final hint: A new hairdo can take your mind off your feet, too. You'll step lightly as you leave the beauty salon!

From under the dryer: Marriage is a lot like a hot bath. After you're in it awhile, it's apt to cool off.

BACCALAUREATE SERVICE AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH

A special baccalaureate service for the youth who attend the Baptist Youth Fellowship of the First Baptist Church of Wilmington, who are graduating from High School and Junior High School this year, will be held this Sunday evening, June 7 at the 7:30 p.m. evening service.

The graduates will participate in the service by reading the Scriptures, praying, giving personal testimonies and presenting special music. Dr. Charles G. Schauffele, chairman at the Department of Christian Education of Gordon College, Beverly Farms, Mass., will preach a baccalaureate message entitled "Graduating to Higher Planes of Christian Living". Parents of the graduates are most cordially invited and other members and friends of the church are urged to attend the impressive service which will represent a milestone in the lives of the church's youth.

These students being honored are Joyce Arbo, Cheryl Carpenter, Linwood Kemp, Dorothy Pike, Marjorie Reardon, and Karen Walden, who are graduating from High School, and Connie Baker, Cathy Bousfield, John Colton, Judy Garrett, Susan Hall, Judy Halpin, Nancy Kemp and Don Reardon, who are graduating from Junior High School.

Preceding this service, Dr. Schauffele, an outstanding educator and youth counsellor, will speak to the combined Junior High and Senior High B.Y.F.'s at 6 p.m. He will also speak to the Baptist youth on the Sunday evenings of June 14, and 28, on the general theme of "Young People and Their Problems." On those evenings, Dr. Schauffele will also speak at the evening services on "The Christian Home."

Opening day for the Little League and His Honor George Spanos leads the parade down Church Street.

A Research Associate of Boston University who admitted using the photographic laboratory at the school for developing and processing pornographic movie film was convicted of "possession of obscene films." George N. Patterson, 101 Jenson Road in Watertown, was also found guilty of unlawful possession of 635 hypodermic needles, 53 syringes and a large quantity of drugs, all uncovered in his home in a raid conducted by Middlesex District Attorney James L. O'Dea's office.

O'Dea disclosed that this raid resulted from an all-out drive by his office against a widespread traffic of pornographic and obscene literature pictures and films, and appealed to the public to help in stamping out the smut racket.

Patterson was tracked down by Corporal John Regan, State Detective assigned to his office who worked with Detective James Condon and Detective Sergeant MacDonald of the Boston Police Department and Lieutenant Keefe of the Watertown Police Department.

O'Dea revealed that detectives assigned to his office under the direction of Corporal John Regan, have uncovered a gigantic national network of filthy literature and photographs. Tens of thousands of feet of movie pictures, hundreds of books and pamphlets, thousand of still photographs and thousands of dollars of photographic equipment, all of the foulest nature, have been seized in the course of the crack-down.

O'Dea emphasized that the first twenty arrests and convictions, representing the beginning of the break-through in this racket would not have been possible without the assistance of the Boston Police Vice Squad under Lieutenant Blake, and the Postal Inspector for this District.

The five months' investigation uncovered evidence of operations in 13 states. O'Dea moved swiftly to supply law enforcement authorities all over the country where his investigation showed operations by individuals outside of the Middlesex District, and requested that they, in turn, supply him with information picked up of any such additional activities in Middlesex County.

O'Dea said that the literature, pictures and film which have been uncovered are of the foulest kind imaginable and that the scale of operations throughout the country has reached fantastic proportions.

O'Dea said "I urge every parent whose children are exposed to pornographic material to contact my office immediately. We have now reached the stage where we need the complete cooperation of the public to eliminate this poison and protect our children from moral decay."

He explained that while it is generally felt that the appeal of pornographic material is confined to stag parties, the investigation has shown that its use at such functions constitutes a very small part of distribution.

"Teenagers are among the largest group of customers and the corruption of morality is the first step upon which the teenager finds himself in the related area of narcotics and, ultimately, general crime."

Among the adult population, amateur film clubs have been formed which produce, develop, and show obscene movies. With the cooperation of legitimate film producers, any such film sent for developing is immediately turned over to the authorities. Home developing presents a more difficult problem. Particular shocking has been the discovery of the utilization by private persons of the self-developing camera and moderately priced home developing equipment.

O'Dea said that "There should be no mistake among professionals who engage in this 'business' for profit, or among private persons who engage in this 'business' for exchange and social purposes, that we will relentlessly track down all leads furnished to us and will prosecute to the full extent of the law."

THE OTHER DAY

We got to talking about the earliest recorded use of metals by man. The Bronze Age (3500 - 1000 B.C.) marked the earliest use of primitive molded metals, and man made slow, plodding progress in its use, going centuries without significant steps. There is considerable reference to metals in the Old Testament, such as Tubal Cain as "An instructor of every artificer of brass and iron" (Gen. IV22). But it was not until the 15th Century A.D. that man knew much about these seven basic metals, gold, copper, iron, silver, tin, lead and mercury. Man-made steel did not become perfected until the latter half of the 18th century, with very slow progress right up to the late 19th century, when progress then came in leaps and bounds and became basic to our way of life in the 20th century. In our own day the greatest single group of metals is your automobile, containing some of almost all known metals. It combines them to make the most intricate mechanism ever to come into common use. It is our purpose in life to provide you with the best possible automobile and arrange that its intricacies never become a bother to you. This we accomplish with untold years of experience and employment of only the most modern equipment, operated only by thoroughly trained specialists. Thus we are here solely to serve you to utmost satisfaction regardless of the complexities, and you can forget them completely.
